

Oh, REALLY?

At Tuesday morning's Plant One all-hands meeting, Plant One Manager Mike Hammond, when asked about the article on Project Pelican, said that he was in charge of Salina, Plant One and everything in Mexico, and he hadn't heard of it. Nope. Didn't ring a bell. He was Clueless in Kansas!

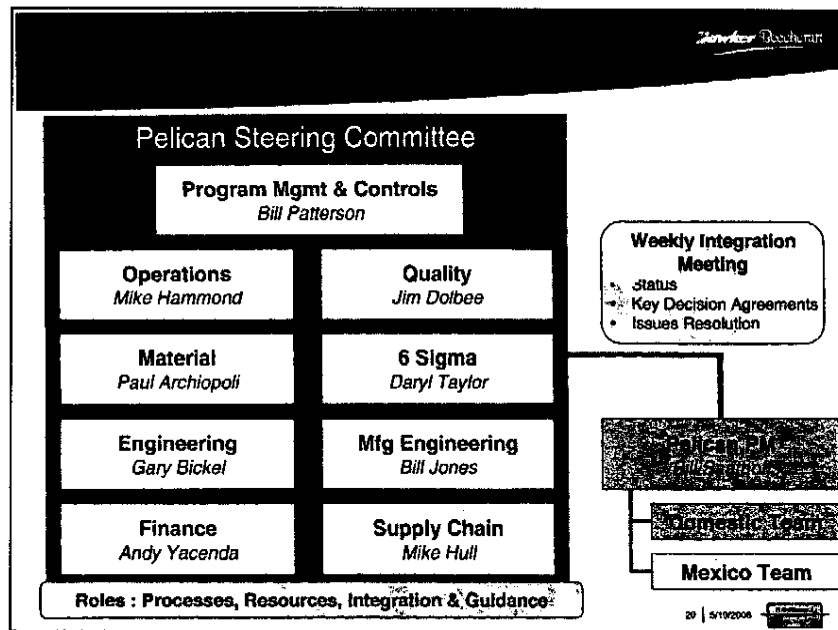

In the press, HBC admits that the document is genuine. Mike Hammond is listed as Director of Operations on the Project Pelican Steering Committee. So, since the document is genuine, there's some major CYA going on.

But then, SUDDENLY, between first and second shift, his memory MIRACULOUSLY returned, and he DID know about Project Pelican, but kept to the spin line that they no longer have that plan! They've told us ALL ALONG that there were NO PLANS to do major assembly. Pure and simple, they have been lying.

It's VERY obvious that Hawker Beechcraft is NOT being honest with their employees, the press, or the community. It's time for Mike Hammond and HBC management to COME CLEAN about what is REALLY going on.

See for yourself. Go to our blog, and download the powerpoint, and see for yourself what Hawker Beechcraft has in store for you.

Note at the bottom of the slide, the date is 5/19/2008. Looks like this presentation is an update, and it ISN'T "old news"!

Slide 20

projectpelican.blogspot.com

